Sunday's report - not driving to Buxton

If you're feeling adventurous with your technology you can click on this link To Buxton to follow the drive we didn't have in Google Earth. You will need to use a Chrome browser or the Google Earth App. You will also need to select Present and then click through the Table of Contents.

For those less adventurous, read on-

Today 19 TRs didn't gather at Battlefield's Starbucks or leave taking the road to Newcastle.

We didn't pass through Woore or get split up at the lights in Alsager.

We didn't stop for tea and regroup at the Bleeding Wolf before taking the Killer Mile up to Mow Cop.

From Mow Cop, we didn't look back to our homes in Shropshire or even continue to Biddulph Grange for lunch

We didn't follow lunch with a walk around the gardens or visit the Chinese Temple.

We didn't even head off to The Roaches or Lud's Church.

And finally we didn't arrive at the Lee Wood Hotel in Buxton and relax with our friends over a great evening meal.

But we do plan to try again next year.
